Celebrating Innovation

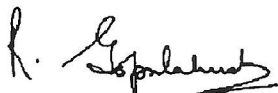

Dear Saikat Barman,

Thank you for your contribution to Tata InnoVista 2014 - it is the support and passion of colleagues like you that has transformed InnoVista into what it is today.

The Tata group has always focused on innovation to differentiate itself and to constantly stay ahead of its competition. This has only been possible due to the tireless efforts and dedication of people like you. The fact that your team's project is being showcased in the group-wide platform of Tata InnoVista 2014 provides a testimony to this dedication, and the in-depth knowledge that you and your team have brought forth. We appreciate the role you have played in the Tata group's innovation journey.

Our group chairman has time and again stressed on the power of collaboration. I am sure you will keep this spirit in mind as you undertake further endeavours in the future. We would constantly rely upon your hard work and dedication to ensure that the culture of innovation is further ingrained within the group.

Thank you once again for being a catalyst for change and wishing you all the very best in your innovation journey.

R. Gopalakrishnan
